

Fingerprint Fun

Forensics Books For Children:

Bowers	Crime Scene	J 363.25
Jones	Fingerprints and Talking Bones	J 363.25
Pentland	Forensic Science	J 363.25
Platt	Forensics	J 363.25
Rainis	Crime-Solving Science Projects	J 363.25
Rollins	Fingerprint Evidence	J 363.25
Yeatts	Forensics: Solving The Crime	J 363.25

Law/Order Jokes:

What did the artist tell the police after he was arrested? I was framed

Why was the belt arrested? Because he held up the pants

What happens when a robber runs into a cement truck? He becomes a hardened criminal

What happens when a peanut gets mugged? It gets assaulted

What do robbers eat for dessert? Crookies

Why do you call a good detective a gumshoe? Because he sticks to the clues

Fingerprinting:

Rub each finger along your nose (to collect more oils for prints). Press your fingers (one at a time) on the side of a clean drinking glass. Sprinkle cocoa on the glass (coat the prints). Gently brush the excess powder off with a clean paintbrush. Examine the fingerprints.

Read About These Private Eyes:

Fiction:

Encyclopedia Brown

Nancy Drew

The Hardy Boys

Sherlock Holmes

The Three Investigators

Non-Fiction:

Allan Pinkerton

