

Nuclear Jellyfish / by Tim Dorsey
MYS DORSEY

Florida resident Serge A. Storms doesn't think of himself as a serial killer. He believes that he's only doing his duty ridding society of moral and social deviants. Currently he and his accomplice Coleman are after a particularly violent group of white supremacists, a group of con-men and a peculiar man they call the Jellyfish.

The Last Confession / by Solomon Jones
MYS JONES

Philadelphia homicide detective Michael Coletti may be nearing retirement but he hasn't lost his instincts after all these years. So when a serial killer calling himself "the angel of death" guns down three people and manages to pin the crime on a priest, Coletti just can't let it go. When the killer starts committing similar murders several years later, Coletti knows that this may be his only chance to avenge innocent blood.

Killing Kate: A Novel / by Julie Kramer
MYS KRAMER

TV reporter Riley Spartz has grown more than a little attached to the case she's been broadcasting, one involving a serial killer who draws chalk outlines shaped like angels around the bodies of his victims. When her investigation leads her to a mysterious secret and a hidden history long buried, one that may just help her find some clues to the recent string of homicides, she pours all her energy into finding out the truth.

Mister X / by John Lutz
MYS LUTZ

Five years ago a madman brutally murdered six women, having mutilated their bodies and carving an X into their flesh. Then the murders suddenly stopped and ex-homicide detective Frank Quinn still can't figure out why. That is, until a sister of one of the victims convinces Frank to reopen the now cold case. Now with the case renewed, the murders have started again.

The Snowman / by Jo Nesbo; trans. from the Norwegian by Don Bartlett
MYS NESBO

With the first snowfall of the season in Oslo comes the disappearance of a local woman from her home. In her yard has been constructed the figure of a distorted, sinister looking snowman. It doesn't take Detective Harry Hole long to realize that this is only one in a string of multiple disappearances—disappearances which are almost certainly the work of a serial killer.

A Curtain Falls / by Stefanie Pintoff
MYS PINTOFF

When a Broadway chorus girl is found murdered in early 20th century New York, Detective Mulvaney suspects it's the work of a serial killer, one who's been stalking similar female victims in the area. Eager to bring the killer to justice but wary of how disruptive a sensational serial killer case could be to the theater district, Mulvaney must work undercover, going off the record to search for the necessary clues.

Big Wheat: A Tale of Bindlestiffs and Blood / by Richard A. Thompson
MYS THOMPSON

In 1919 on the high Dakota prairie, a serial killer stalks a transitory party of harvesters who thresh and store the season's wheat. The nameless murderer calls himself the Windmill Man and believes that it is his holy calling to replenish the newly harvested ground with human blood. He's been at it for years and anticipates more still victims until a small boy unwittingly discovers his livelihood.

Shoot to Thrill / by P.J. Tracy
MYS TRACY

In Minneapolis, the detective team known as the Monkeewrench crew has them tracking a serial killer who uses the internet and some other computer savvy techniques to lure his victims to their doom. Even the local police and the FBI have expended a lot of resources and manpower in the case and still haven't got a clue. But Monkeewrench may have some surprising answers.

OTHER TITLES

No One Will Hear You / by Max Allan Collins & Matthew Clemens
FIC COLLINS

What the Night Knows: A Novel / by Dean Koontz
FIC KOONTZ

Dexter is Delicious / by Jeff Lindsay
FIC LINDSAY

Buried Prey / by John Sandford
FIC SANDFORD

Thou Shalt Kill / by Daniel Blake
MYS BLAKE

Misterioso / by Arne Dahl
MYS DAHL

Immoral / by Brian Freeman
MYS FREEMAN

The Preacher / by Camilla Lackberg
MYS LACKBERG

Red Wolf: A Novel / by Liza Marklund
MYS MARKLUND

Red Herring: A Joe Gunther Novel / by Archie Mayor
MYS MAYOR

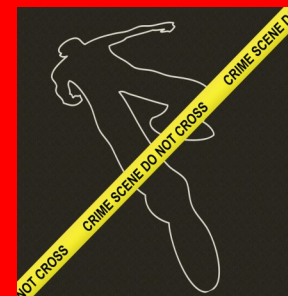

Closer Than Blood / by Gregg Olsen
MYS OLSEN

The Monster in the Box: An Inspector Wexford Novel / by Ruth Rendell
MYS RENDELL

MOORE MEMORIAL
PUBLIC LIBRARY
1701 9TH AVENUE NORTH
TEXAS CITY, TX 77590
(409) 643-5977
www.texascity-library.org

A SERIAL MENACE

NEWER CRIME AND MYSTERY FICTION WITH SERIAL KILLERS

FICTION

Dead By Morning / by Beverly Barton
FIC BARTON

Government security agent Maleah Purdue is becoming paranoid as a murderer has been killing off her co-workers in the style of a notorious serial killer currently in prison. Deciding to take her own safety seriously, Maleah enlists experienced profiler Derek Lawrence to research the clues and catch the killer before he finds his next target—Maleah herself.

Kiss Me, Kill Me: A Novel of Suspense / by Allison Brennan
FIC BRENNAN

Criminal profiler Lucy Kincaid has teamed up with the FBI to find a missing teenage girl who has a penchant for disappearing and, as it turns out, has been leading a rather bizarre double-life. Meanwhile other members of the bureau, Agent Suzanne Madeux to be exact, are investigating the case of a serial killer known as Cinderella Strangler who preys upon women who participate in underground sex parties.

Whisper in the Dark / by Robert Gregory Browne
FIC BROWNE

When Detective Frank Blackburn discovers an unidentified young woman dead and with a pair of scissors in her left hand, he has a tentative hunch that the murder may be the work of Vincent Van Gogh, a notorious serial killer with an artistic bent. In need of a profiler who can provide some insight in the mind of the madman, Blackburn contacts psychiatrist Dr. Michael Tolan, a man with his own persona experience with Van Gogh—his wife was one of his victims.

Running Blind / by Lee Child
FIC CHILD

Jack Reacher is at it again. Only this time he's involved with the local authorities in search for a grisly serial murderer. But even the police he's obligated to work for aren't so sure that Jack himself isn't the real killer. Now if he can only prove them wrong. Of course it won't be easy for the ex-MP who's already in trouble for several previous rogue maneuvers and is always seemingly caught up in some mess not always of his own doing.

Abomination / by Colleen Coble
FIC COBLE

Recently divorced detective Nick Andreakos is after a serial murderer whose been targeting young girls and women. When certain clues lead him to believe that his ex-wife Eve could be the killer's next target, the case takes on another dimension. Eve has already had one close call with the murderer and seems to know that it won't be the last time she sees the man known as Gideon.

Split Second / by Catherine Coulter
FIC COULTER

FBI agents Dillon Savich and Lacey Sherlock are on the trail of a dangerous psychopath, a man whose killings are curiously modeled after those of another notorious serial killer—Ted Bundy. Fortunately, Savich and Sherlock are well-trained professionals who are willing to go to the edge to catch the villain even if the edge is out of their jurisdiction.

BoneMan's Daughters / by Ted Dekker
FIC DEKKER

In Texas, a malicious serial killer known as “Bone Man” has been stalking and murdering young girls. Meanwhile in Iraq, a high-ranking military officer has been captured and is being held captive by the enemy. In an effort to extort information, they've blackmailed their prisoner using the life and well-being of his wife and daughter back home in Texas—and there seems to be link between the captors and the Bone Man. (Also see The Bride Collector by Ted Dekker)

Born To Die / by Lisa Jackson
FIC JACKSON

When two women who look remarkably similar to herself suddenly die of seemingly natural causes, Dr. Kacey Lambert chalks it up as a coincidence. But when it's discovered that one of the dead bodies contained traces of poison, it becomes a murder case headed by Detectives Selena Alvarez and her partner Regan Pescoli. As more women, all resembling Dr. Lambert, are murdered under ever more brutal circumstances, both the detectives and the now targeted Lambert become more than a little anxious.

Velocity: A Karen Vail Novel / by Alan Jacobson
FIC JACOBSON

Karen Vail was enjoying a nice time with her boyfriend, Detective Robby Hernandez, until he suddenly disappeared into the Napa Valley night air. A blood stain and some vague clues are all Karen has to go on until she learns of a serial killer who's been operating in the wine country recently, ferociously killing his targets. Could Robby have been one of his victims? Karen may be the only one who can find out.

The Pale Criminal / by Philip Kerr
FIC KERR

In 1938, Bernhard Gunther is a private investigator in Berlin who's currently working two cases. A wealthy widow has hired him to find out who is blackmailing her and the city police have asked for his aid in tracking down a serial killer. But Gunther soon finds that his cases aren't all that dissimilar as his pursuit of the killer and investigation into the blackmailing case leads him down a strange and conspiratorial path involving Nazi experimental medical practices.

Blind Fury / by Lynda La Plante
FIC LAPLANTE

With a serial killer on the loose, Detective Inspector Anna Travis is at a loss for clues. When things get desperate enough, she reconnects with a man named Cameron Welsh, a convicted murderer Travis herself helped arrest years ago. She intends for Welsh to only help in profiling the killer. But it soon becomes clear that Welsh has more in mind than just helping Travis solve a case.

The Devil All The Time: A Novel / by Donald Ray Pollock
FIC POLLOCK

Middle America isn't all it seems during the conservative years of the mid-twentieth century. For the regions around Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana are inhabited by lawless, malevolent people like a couple who takes vacations to murder hitchhikers, con-men on the lam and a strange orphan boy with a particularly violent sense of fair play.

The Hidden: A Novel / by Bill Pronzini
FIC PRONZINI

Jay and Shelby Macklin are couple whose marriage is deteriorating. On a whim, they decide to vacation on the Northern California coastline only to experience bad weather and a generally dismal environment. Unbeknownst to the Macklins however is a serial murderer known as the Coastline Killer whose been roaming the vicinity where the couple are staying. When he claims another victim, the authorities suddenly suspect that Jay may be the killer.

Still Missing / by Chevy Stevens
FIC STEVENS

Real estate agent Annie Moresby never knew what she was getting into when she agreed to show a house to a mysterious stranger. The stranger turned out to be a psychopath who forcefully held Annie captive in a remote mountain cabin for over a year before she managed an escape. Only now her former captor, a serial killer, is still on the loose and he may be after Annie one last time.

MYSTERY

Blacklands / by Belinda Bauer
MYS BAUER

It's been over two decades since the murder of little Billy Peters and his body still hasn't been found. Most residents of the small English village believe Billy is buried in the same foggy moor in which handful of other children were buried—all murdered by a grisly psychopath now serving life in prison. But Billy's nephew Steven is determined to find his uncle's body and bring some closure to his broken family, even if it means contacting the serial killer himself.

Bloodline / by Mark Billingham
MYS BILLINGHA

A madman is on the loose in London. A very clever and very malevolent serial killer has been murdering the children of the victims of Raymond Garvey, a notorious serial murderer from the city's past. Murder Squad Detective Tom Thorne is on the case and thinks he's caught a lead when a pregnant woman is found murdered. But what he finds instead is an even more complicated puzzle than he'd previously been working on.

Once Were Cops / by Ken Bruen
MYS BRUEN

In Ireland, Michael O'Shea is a member of special branch of the police force known as the Guards. He's also a sociopath with who walks a thin line between sanity and all-out mayhem. When an exchange program allows Michael to work in the US for a period, his dream of living in New York City is about to become a nightmare for local residents.

No One To Hear You Scream / by K.J. Dahlen
MYS DAHLEN

After a demented serial killer brutally murders his wife, New Orleans cop Sam Sebastian has decided he no longer wants to play by the rules and turns vigilante. To his surprise he's aided in his quest by FBI man Cole Davidson who has his own reasons for trying to catch the man who they soon discover is quite elusive and very deadly.